

STEPHANIE ANNE ROBERTS

University of Westminster and London School of Economics

EDUCATION:

- 2000 – Ph.D
Criminal appeals
London School of Economics
- 1999 – 2000 LLM – Merit
Criminology and Criminal Justice
London School of Economics
- 1996 – 1999 LLB – 2:1
University of North London
(now London Metropolitan University)

EMPLOYMENT:

September 2003 – present

Lecturer in Criminal law and module convenor of Criminal Procedure and Evidence, University of Westminster.

September 2004 – June 2005

Part-time teacher, law department, London School of Economics. Teaching Criminal Law.

September 2003 – June 2004

Part-time teacher, law department, London School of Economics. Teaching on English Legal Institutions and Criminal Law.

September 2002 – June 2003

Part-time teacher, law department, London School of Economics. Teaching on Introduction to the Legal System, English Legal Institutions and Criminal Law.

September 2001 – June 2002

Part-time teacher, law department, London School of Economics. Teaching on Introduction to the Legal System and English Legal Institutions.

January 2001 – June 2001

Part-time teacher, law department, London School of Economics. Teaching classes on the Law of Obligations (tort law).

PUBLICATIONS:

- S. Roberts, 'The Royal Commission on Criminal Justice and Factual Innocence: Remediating Wrongful Convictions in the Court of Appeal' (2004) 1(2) JUSTICE Journal (forthcoming).
- S. Roberts, 'Unsafe Convictions: Defining and Compensating Miscarriages of Justice' (2003) 66(3) Modern Law Review 441
- K. Malleon and S. Roberts, 'Streamlining and Clarifying the Appellate Process' (2002) Criminal Law Review 272.